

Buffer Fringe Theater Festival

Open Call for theatre Groups

Home for Cooperation invites actors/ theatre groups to participate in the Buffer Fringe Theatre Festival staged in the medieval moat by Ledra Palace in October.

The Buffer Fringe Theatre Festival, which encourages unrecognized or undiscovered talent, is a platform for artists to take groundbreaking work to the next level and a gathering place for insightful theatre and culture lovers in the city. It's the perfect place for your art, your group and your creativity to shine.

In addition to the already selected performances funded by the Small Projects Programme part of the EEA Grants, Home for Cooperation is accepting applications from Groups/ individuals that will perform at the festival. The open Call will include additional performances that will be hosted during the festival with no extra costs burdening the teams in terms of technical support, promotional material, stage and place setting.

Performances for the Fringe will be selected by an evaluation committee, coming from theatre and organizers of the Festival. Application deadline will be September 1st.

With your support, the First Annual Buffer Fringe Fest will claim success in the local and national scene. The Buffer Zone Mode is the perfect venue to host artists and Home 4 Cooperation is hoping to offer fantastic theater venues, beautiful scenery and an incredible after party that is drawn from a play to play .
